IS THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE the Republican party?

Is the Republican national committee the national convention?

Is the voice of the defeated to sound through this great instrument?

Is the voice of the people to be stifled by Boies Penrose and Murray Crane?

Is the national committee or the national convention to name the candidate?

Is the national convention to hold its commission from the people?

THESE questions are discussed freely, honestly, openly in this issue.

The Republican party has reached the turn of the road.

The only question in the Republican party today is: Shall the people rule, or shall the bosses deliver stolen property to a candidate who will represent the greatest political organization on the face of the earth?

THE present system of controlling a party convention is not only an insult to the intelligence of millions of people, but it is an injustice to the Republican party. It is nothing but fraud; it produces nothing but fraud.

Answer: Change the system.
